Oia Town, Santorini Island, Greece

10 Reasons You Should Use a Travel Advisor

1. Resources

A Travel Advisor has access to resources not available to the general public. A common misconception is that working with a travel advisor costs more than booking on your own. Travel Advisors have access to incredible deals, which means significant savings! Additionally, Travel Advisors have access to upgrades, added amenities, upgraded travel, and so much more. If you're not sure what you want, a travel advisor can help you figure it out.

2. Convenience

When researching a vacation, it's easy to invest hours scouring the internet in search of the best flights, prices, itineraries. Invest your time wisely and save yourself some headaches and work with a Travel Advisor. Travel Advisors can plan every aspect of your trip from flights to hotels to transportation and attractions. Working with a Travel Advisor will not only ensure you get the best possible prices, but it will also save valuable time.

3. Saving Money

A common misconception is that working with a travel advisor costs more. This isn't the case. Travel Advisors have access to many deals that are not available to the general public. Additionally, most travel advisor fees are built-in, meaning you won't pay anything extra for most services. Even if a Travel Advisor does charge a fee for additional services beyond standard bookings, your total price will still likely be less than what you would have been able to find on your own.

4. Experience

Travel Advisors know the best times to visit certain areas. They will know the best (and worst) times to go to your desired destination. Advisors will know to avoid some tropical destinations during rainy seasons, where certain attractions are not open. How will you know without hours of research? Work with a Travel Advisor. They are privilege to a wealth of information not available to the public and have access to other professionals who have all the answers.

5. Activities

Travel Advisors have access to booking systems and long-standing supplier relationships the average person is unable to access. As a customer, it's the Travel Advisors' goal to deliver you a fantastic experience. Whenever possible, they will work to provide the best value for your money – be it on a flight, a car, RV or bike rental, at your hotel/resort, or even on show and event tickets

6. Security

Everyone hopes it doesn't, but if something goes wrong on your trip such as a hotel closure or canceled flights, a good Travel Advisor will step in straight away to support you, speak to the relevant companies and get your holiday back on track.

7. Budgeting

How much does the trip cost? Are there hidden fees? Resort tax? Does the excursion include lunch? Should we purchase excursions in advance? Is all-inclusive a good deal? You may or may not know the answer to these questions but your Travel Advisor does.

8. Getting it Right

Some trips are more complicated than others. Foreign travel is more complex than traveling to the next state. The stakes are too high to make a mistake when you are planning a big trip involving coordinating itineraries with friends or family members. Even on city tours or shore excursions, a Travel Advisor can help guide you through your travels with ease.

9. Value

Travel Advisors can save you time and money, through long and lasting supplier relationships and knowing and sharing the best and most current offers passing the best deal on to you.

10. Happiness

Travel Advisors want their customers to have a great experience, from the initial travel planning, through to the booking process and the travel experience itself. They want their customers to return again and again, knowing that they are investing in reliability, competency, financial security, great travel experience, and, most of all, a happy holiday!

How many people will be traveling?

---

What is your budget?

---

Any dates you cannot travel?

What destinations are on your bucket list?

Is this trip for a special occasion?

Activities that would interest you?

Traveling abroad? Have a valid passport?

Greece—the land where western civilization began, democracy was created, and where you can find some of the most delicious foods you’ve ever tasted. This ancient country boasts more than 4,000 years of history scattered across its mainland and 6,000 islands. Here you will find the great minds of Plato and Aristotle’s school of thoughts mingling with the gods of Olympus. Walk through the ancient ruins, taste the olives fresh off the tree and sip Ouzo while overlooking the white washed homes with blue domes, like you are part of a postcard.

One of the most famous destinations in Greece—Santorini, is not to be missed. To sit at an open-air café perched high above the sea with views of white-washed houses hugging the mountain side and terracing down the cliff, is a scene plucked from any travelers dreams. Santorini really does offer something for every type of traveler. Whether you are looking for high-end dining, active exploration, or complete rest and relaxation, you will find it all with the most stunning views on this Greek island.

Greece, like so many European countries, offers a look into the past with so much culture, history and tradition. From the ripe tomato and cucumber salads, to the varying shades of blue that come from the sea, rooftops and clear skies, Greece does it better. Explore the past on the mainland or experience today on the islands, either way you can’t go wrong when you travel to the land of the gods.

With endless destination opportunities, Greece is one of the most culture-rich, historical, and beautiful places on earth. Experience Volos on the Greek mainland. Spend the day at the hanging monasteries of Meteora, a place of amazing wonder that is indescribable. The area is breathtakingly beautiful, peaceful and isolated, one of the highlights of Greece for its uniqueness. Next, see Heraklion, Crete, and the ancient Minoan civilization on display at the Palace of Knossos with frescoes more than 4000 years old. The site is often referred to as Europe’s oldest city.

2020 TRAVEL TRENDS

With every new year comes an influx of new types of travel and destinations that become popular. Below are some of the top travel trends of 2020.

- 1. Instagram-Worthy Travel: More and more people are trying to take the best photos for their social media. Often times, a few good photos can put a new travel location on the map.
- 2. Micro Trips: Popular with Millennials and Gen Z travelers, micro trips are essentially long weekends. This helps people see and explore new places, even on low budgets and without using too many vacation days.
- 3. Ancestral Travel: With the rise of popular genetic testing kits, traveling to one's homeland is on the rise in 2020.

- 4. Wellness Tourism: With a focus on fitness, mental balance, and healthy eating, wellness tourism will continue to rise this year.
- 5. Foodie Tourism: Food has always been a great aspect of travel, but in 2020 it gets ramped up. Trips are now being planned around a specific restaurant or dining experience.
- 6. Eco-Friendly Tourism: This trend has become popularized in the travel industry from airlines, hotels, and cruise lines, thanks to the push to make the traveling experience more green.

- 7. Northern Lights Travel: Places like Iceland were put on the must-see travel lists thanks to this natural phenomenon, but now more remote destinations are being added to this list, just because of their spectacular views of the Northern Lights.
- 8. Solo Travel: Solo travel is on the rise, especially for women over 55. This individual travel experience promotes confidence, allows for personal growth, and encourages getting out of one's comfort zone.

London Theater at Sea

Olivier Award-Winning Talent Both On and Off Stage

This special crossing will showcase Olivier Award-winning talent both on and off stage. The inaugural London Theater at Sea will feature an illustrious line-up of guests in conversation about their careers, unique lectures and talks on productions and how they are put together, as well as on theaters themselves.

With a chance to be involved in dance classes, our onboard West End choir, in design workshops and a chance to join in a West End sing-along, we will give you a real look behind the scenes.

With more special guests to be announced, this will be the chance to experience the very best that London Theater has to offer and is a must for any theater lover.

CALLING ALL FOODIES!

If you are looking to get away this year and tantalize those taste-buds, then the Caribbean is your must-visit destination. From jerk chicken in Jamaica, to tostones in the Dominican Republic, and of course tacos in Mexico, the Caribbean provides endless eats for the food lover in all of us.

Anguilla and the Cayman Islands will be hot in 2020 when it comes to the kitchen. These locations bring in a food-loving crowd, as well as famous chefs from around the world. But it's not just local foods that these locations specialize in. One of the best rated restaurants in George Town, Cayman Islands is Le Vele offering award winning Italian food options.

As food lovers, part of the overall eating experience is utilizing all of our senses. One of those senses— sight, is about setting the scene before the food even arrives. For gorgeous dining views that will enhance the eating experience, check out Straw Hat Restaurant in Meads Bay, Anguilla for breathtaking views and out of this world seafood.

If you are looking to take your eating to the next level, why not try some of the following traditional dishes throughout the Caribbean:

Bahamas: Conch Salad – Conch is the national food of the Bahamas and is similar to calamari.

Barbados: Cou-Cou – The national dish of Barbados, consisting of fried flying fish with a spicy gravy.

Saint Lucia: Green Figs and Salt Fish – Another national dish that consists of unripened bananas and preserved fish.

Grenada: Oil Down – This national dish is a coconut milk stew that consists of meats and vegetables.

So You Lost Your Passport While on Vacation?

Don't panic, a lost passport doesn't have to be a headache if you have a backup plan. In many locations, passports can be issued within one day. Stay calm and follow these tips for recovering your identification.

First, before you travel, purchasing travel insurance often comes with protection covering lost passports. This will help with any incurred fees that may come from getting a new passport. Make sure to discuss this situation with your travel advisor before you travel. Another pre-trip option, is to share a copy of your passport with your travel advisor or family member back home, and to keep a copy at your hotel for ease of getting a new one.

After losing your passport, make sure to make an official police report with the local authorities. Second, you will need to find the nearest embassy or consulate. It is always best to call ahead and set an appointment with them to save time. If you have documents that will help identify you, gather them (i.e. copy of your passport, drivers license, etc.) and bring them with you. Finally wait for your replacement passport to be ready.

Other options for ease of replacement include keeping additional passport approved photos with you when you travel, having a photo of your passport on your phone, and keeping in contact with your travel advisor.
